GENERALS DEMAND SURRENDER OF THE PALACE GUARD

Action Taken Today on Part of Besieging Army and in Case of Refusal Sultan Will be Forced to Abdicate at the Point of the Bayonet.

(By Bysantius Meschopoulos, Staff Correspondent, United Press.)

Constantinople, April 23.—The generals of the besieging army sent a formal demand to-day for the surrender of the palace guard of six thousand soldiers threatening in case of refusal to force the abdication of the Sultan at the point of the bayonet. This action was taken in pursuance of last evening's joint conference at Stefano, which decided to depose the Sultan and make his brother, Reischad Effendi, the ruler.

The entrance of the entire army into the city is momentarily expected. Chetef Pasha, commander-in-chief of the third army corps, who will be the temporary dictator if the Young Turks' present plans do not miscarry, has arrived from Salonica and his first orders were that no excesses be committed when the army invades the city.

The Sultan has indicated his willingness to abdicate if the powers will guarantee his personal safety. He insists that he had nothing to do with the uprising and is asking a trial before being summarily dismissed. It is currently reported in the city that Abdul's mind has weakened perceptibly in the last few days and that he is no longer mentally responsible. This report, however, is received with due allowance, as insanity is the only ground aside from treason on which the deposition of the Sultan can be forced.

A fierce fight with the palace guard is deemed likely as the soldiers of the guard are fanatics and have sworn to die in the defense of "the Sacred Person" of the Sultan.

Three Turkish warships, the commanders of which decided yesterday to cast their lot with the Young Turks, arrived at San Stefano. They have the Sultan's private yacht under guard and Abdul's escape by this means has been cut off. The Sultan's third son, Burhan Ed-Din, who attempted to escape from the city is reported to have fallen into the hands of the Young Turks. There is danger that he will be executed as he is considered one of the worst enemies of the Young Turks.

The whereabouts of Reischad Effendi is still a mystery. Reischad is the Young Turks' choice for the Sultanship and the fact that nothing has been heard from him for six days leads to the belief that he may have been assassinated.

Serious squabbling has broken out among the besiegers owing to criticisms received from the Salonica headquarters. The division arises over the question of the disposition to make of the Sultan. Many of the soldiers are fearful that if they are too severe with Abdul the powers may interfere. The majority demand Abdul's deposition and many are still insisting that he be executed.

The mutineers are still in the city and threatening disorders in the European quarter of the city. They are driven to desperation by the fear that they will be executed by the Young Turks. They have already assassinated several of the Reactionary leaders whom they blamed for involving them in the desperate situation. The revolt of the Albanians is spreading, but as a large detachment of the Young Turks army has been sent to the scene, order will probably be quickly restored. Forty villages in Albania are reported burned by the rebels. Many of the rebel leaders have been shot down.

The Sheikh-ul-Islam, the Mohammedan high priest is preparing a religious decree approving the Sultan's deposition.

VOICE INSURED FOR $50,000

Fritzi Scheff's Magnificently Equipped Parlor Car — Her Special Dressing Room.

One of the handsomest private cars in America will be in Bridgeport next Monday, when that belonging to Madame Fritzi Scheff, the famous prima donna, will be parked at the railroad station in this city.

The car, the "Plymouth Rock," is a model of comfort and luxury. It has accommodations for seven people, outside of the staff of servants. The drawing room is fitted up with a specially designed baby grand piano which was made especially to fit in the narrow confines of the diva's traveling home. There is a small and carefully selected library, and the furnishings are very rich.

Charles Dillingham, Madame Scheff's manager, takes every possible precaution to guard the health of his songbird, and to ensure her every comfort. Directions are given that the car shall be parked in the quietest possible place in each city where the prima donna sings. Mr. Dillingham has recently had Madame Scheff's voice insured for $50,000, and in case she breaks down, he is fully covered against loss by this precaution.

Another evidence of the care with which the diva is treated is the fact that the company carries with it a specially designed dressing room, which is put up in each theatre where she plays. The dressing room is hung in pink and blue hangings, and is complete in every detail, furniture to match the hangings being carried by the company.
